Magnolia street has begun to improve in appearance since Mr. Dodson has taken charge of it. Let there be more war on the weeds and we will have less sickness and fewer snakes and mosquitos, besides a decided improvement in the general appearance of things.

Collector King received a big shipment of tobacco yesterday, consisting of 14 bales, or about 1,800 pounds. This is a big shipment for this time of the year, and will represent a good sum of money. Now Mr. King and his assistants will be busy for a few days weighing, sampling and entering this consignment.

E. T. Williams, the pleasant deputy collector, has a little dog with more sense than some people have oats. When the carriers pass the house with the STAR, Flossie rushes out and brings the paper to her waiting master, and then waits eagerly for him to read the news. If more of our patrons had such dogs, perhaps there would be fewer complaints of not getting papers.

VOTE IT DOWN.

There's a bill to bond the town;

Vote it down!

A scheme for plute renown,

Vote it down!

Let your ballots fall like hail,

And for manhood hoist your sail,

Vote it down,

Vote it down,

Vote it down!

Kill monopoly at its birth,

Vote it down!

Or 'twill grind you to the earth,

Vote it down!

Don't be robbed, don't be a slave;

Be a hero, and be brave.

Vote it down,

Vote it down,

Vote it down!

The combine rules the ring,

Vote it down!

Wipe the earth with the foul thing,

Vote it down!

For its head has said just so.

That 'twould do the same with you,

Vote it down,

Vote it down,

Vote it down!

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

It certainly does when you use the STAR as the medium. A few weeks ago we advertised two houses for rent. Both were rented in a few days. Last week we advertised a cow for sale and we could have sold her a dozen times. We advertised boarders wanted at a private boarding house—they have the boarders. In fact, it will pay you every time to advertise in the STAR.

Ain't it said, madam, that givin' to de poor is lendin' to de Lord?"

"Yes."

"Well, would you mind lendin' de Lord a quarter?"

SUMMONSES ISSUED

In the Ocala Bank Cases Against E. W. Agnew and Associates.

Papers were filed in the office of the clerk of the United States court yesterday against Enoch W. Agnew and his associates in the First National bank of Ocala. The documents were precipes for summonses, and were filed by R. A. Burford, attorney for the plaintiffs in the various cases. The titles of the cases were John K. McDonald, receiver of the First National bank of Ocala, against the several defendants as follows: Enoch W. Agnew, sr., damages laid at $35,000; Enoch W. Agnew, jr., $1,500; Brantley A. Weathers, $15,000; Robert D. Thompson, $1,500; Willis M. Etheridge, $1,500; Isaac Stevens, $1,500. The summonses were issued as prayed by the plaintiffs.

PREACHING ABOUT SIN.

Probably America contains no greater thinker than President J. Stanley Hall, of Clark University. Johns-Hopkins had him as her professor of psychology, but Clark with her millions captured him. Dr. Hall for many years has occupied "advanced" ground as a religious thinker. Imagine our surprise, therefore, when we heard him say lately that preachers should preach more about sin than they do. He said that not only is there total depravity, but teetotal depravity. Men, said he, have not evolved upward, but devolved downward. Sin today is carried into art, into literature and should be attacked from every quarter. Good for President Hall! The older he gets he more clearly sees that many men have "sucked the orange of life and found its taste rather nasty." Many of these are young men who do not think it good form to be pious. In the rather vulgar though expressive phrase of Matthew Arnold, they have learned to turn up their noses before they have learned to keep them clean. There is no strategy that will meet this condition of affairs. What is needed, as Dr. Hall says, is for the preachers to talk more about sin. A bold, impetuous change all along the lines would rout the enemy now.
